

→ KB fix

Apr 77

Now available as a BOOK-DIVIDEND®...

"The best and most informative single-volume study of Lincoln available to the general reader"—Alden Whitman, Harper's Bookletter

SEE LAST PAGE FOR OTHER BOOK-DIVIDENDS CURRENTLY AVAILABLE

↩

"I shall do nothing in malice. What I deal with is too vast for malicious dealing." —ABRAHAM LINCOLN
to a Louisiana Unionist, 1862

THIS country's history is studded with the names of great men. But, for many Americans, the figure of Abraham Lincoln towers above them all. Stories of him as the homespun "rail splitter" from the Illinois prairies, as the saintly Great Emancipator who freed the slaves and as the courageous defender of the Union are dramatic elements of the Lincoln legend. But what, if any, of this legend is fact?

Based on seven years of research, With Malice Toward None offers an unforgettably vivid picture of the man behind the myth. Spanning the years from Lincoln's early childhood to his death at Ford's Theater in 1865, this full-scale biography—the first in nearly two decades—delves into every aspect of Lincoln's private life and public career. In particular, it examines Lincoln's changing attitudes toward slavery and black suffrage, his political reasons for issuing the Emancipation Proclamation and his controversial plans for the reconstruction of the South after the Civil War had ended.

In his preface, Stephen B. Oates writes, "I've sought to draw a portrait that is fair and unflinching in its realism, a portrait that captures all sides of that flawed and fatalistic man." In this he has succeeded admirably. The Lincoln who emerges from these pages is complex, paradoxical and unmistakably human.

"A superb biography, thoroughly researched, written with verve and grace and replete with judicious insights. . . the author deserves accolades from scholars as well as the general reader."
—Milwaukee Journal

"The complex figure we meet in Stephen B. Oates's biography of Lincoln . . . is persuasively close to the living man."
—Los Angeles Times

"Will be regarded by many as the best biography among a multitude that have presented our sixteenth president. . . has succeeded better than any other . . . in presenting the man himself."
—Dallas Morning News

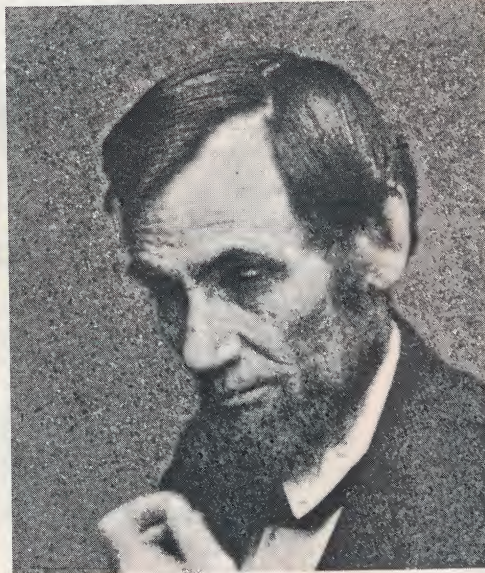

"A masterful work. . . If you haven't become familiar with the Lincoln story, here is a magnificent way to begin. If you have, only a single book on the subject—this is it."
—Chicago Sun-Times

Frederick Meserve Collection

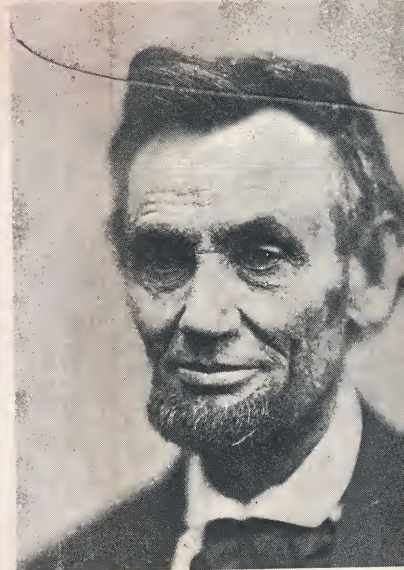

The Republican Party's presidential candidate,
August, 1860.

Frederick Meserve Collection

Wartime president, 1862.

Frederick Meserve Collection

Shortly before his assassination, April 1865.

*deal with is too vast
s dealing."* —ABRAHAM LINCOLN
to a Louisiana Unionist, 1862

has succeeded admirably. The Lincoln who emerges from se pages is complex, paradoxical and unmistakably human.

superb biography, thoroughly researched, written with ve and grace and replete with judicious insights. . . . The hor deserves accolades from scholars as well as the general der."

—Milwaukee Journal

ne complex figure we meet in Stephen B. Oates's biography Lincoln . . . is persuasively close to the living man."

—Los Angeles Times

Will be regarded by many as the best biography among the ltitude that have presented our sixteenth president. . . . Oates
s succeeded better than any other . . . in presenting the man nself."

—Dallas News

masterful work. . . . If you haven't become familiar with the ncoln story, here is a magnificent way to begin. If you want ly a single book on the subject—this is it."

—Chicago Sun-Times

ick Meserve Collection

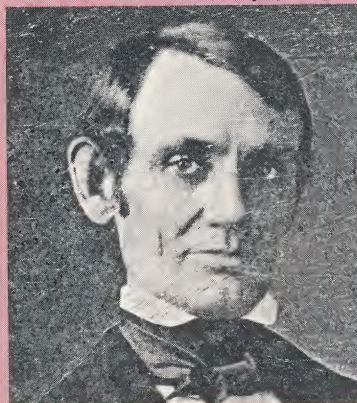

t, 1862.

Frederick Meserve Collection

Shortly before his assassination, April, 1865.

Library of Congress

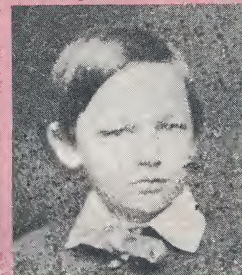

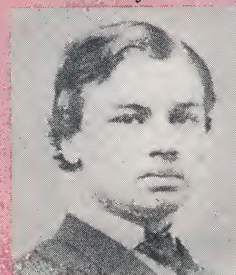

Lloyd Ostendorf

Library of Congress

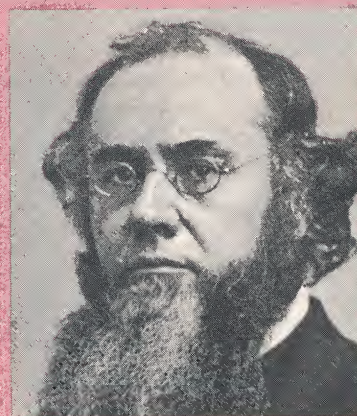

Chicago Historical Society

Lloyd Ostendorf

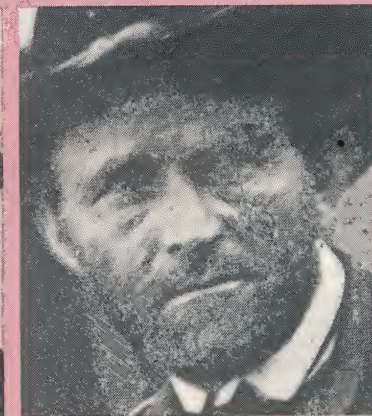

The Lincoln Family: Abraham Lincoln as congressman-elect, 1846; Mary Todd Lincoln in 1846, four years after her marriage; (from left to right) 17-year-old Robert Todd Lincoln, who was "his mother's 'baby' all through"; William Wallace "Willie" Lincoln, who died on February 20, 1862, aged 11; Thomas "Tad" Lincoln, whom Mary called "her little sunshine."

Lincoln Confidantes: (left) Edwin M. Stanton, second secretary of war, a talented administrator who became one of Lincoln's closest wartime friends; (right) Ulysses S. Grant, the hero of Vicksburg and Lincoln's favorite commander, who became general in chief in 1864.

Frederick Meserve Collection

National Archives

492 pages • 48 photographs • bibliographical notes • index

[Publisher's list price: $15.95]

OBTAINABLE FOR 2 BOOK-DIVIDEND CREDITS PLUS $4

OTHER BOOK-DIVIDENDS CURRENTLY AVAILABLE

A HISTORY OF WESTERN PHILOSOPHY

By Bertrand Russell

In this classic study of the major philosophers and philosophical theories to have emerged in the ancient, medieval and modern worlds, Bertrand Russell discusses the sources of Plato's political and philosophical ideas, Saint Augustine's view of history in The City of God, the rise of science and its impact on modern philosophy, and more. 920 pages, index.

[Publisher's list price: $14.95]

FOR 2 CREDITS PLUS $4

THE NATURAL WAY TO DRAW

By Kimon Nicolaïdes

A sensible and remarkably successful step-by-step system of art instruction by "one of the greatest teachers of drawing America has ever known." For beginners and advanced students alike. Illustrated.

[Publisher's list price: $7.95]

FOR 1 CREDIT PLUS $2.25

THE NEW OXFORD BOOK OF ENGLISH VERSE 1250-1950

Chosen and edited by Helen Gardner

An expanded edition (1972) of one of the most famous books of poetry in the English language. Of far wider range than its renowned predecessor, this edition includes for the first time such poets as Swift, D. H. Lawrence and T. S. Eliot. In all, nearly 200 poets are represented, ranging from 13th-century bards to Dylan Thomas. 974 pages, index of authors and first lines.

[Publisher's list price: $15]

FOR 2 CREDITS PLUS $3.50

THE REDBOOK COOKBOOK

Edited by Ruth Fairchild Pomeroy and the Editors of Redbook

To reflect changing needs and tastes this revised (1976) edition includes new ethnic recipes and cooking methods, such as the Oriental stir-fry technique; more low-calorie dishes, an updated calorie chart and a carbohydrate-count chart; and an entirely new section on nutrition, including charts on particular nutrients and the foods which provide them. Over 1000 recipes, fully illustrated.

[Publisher's list price: $12.95]

FOR 2 CREDITS PLUS $3.50

POOH'S POT O' HONEY (4 Vols., Boxed)

By A. A. Milne • Illustrated by Ernest H. Shepard

Each tiny volume (2¾" x 3¾") holds a complete Winnie-the-Pooh adventure, illustrated with the original drawings. In these four funny tales Pooh, Piglet, Eeyore and company are all at their endearing best.

[Publisher's list price: $5.95]

FOR 1 CREDIT PLUS $1.75

A shipping charge is added to all shipments.

BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB, INC.  CAMP HILL, PENNSYLVANIA 17012

PRINTED IN U.S.A.

S677

"The best available to

With Malice Toward None